SUPERVISOR RICHMOND EXPLAINS PURPOSE OF RELIEF BOND MEASURE

Direct Tax Necessary If Issue Does Not Pass, Is Claim

The $3,000,000 bond issue for county indigent relief to be voted upon by Alameda county voters at a special election December 20, is the most feasible plan for meeting the situation during the coming year.

This was the declaration of Supervisor Ralph Richmond in explaining to the Niles Chamber of Commerce at their Monday meeting why the board of supervisors ordered the bond issue.

Supervisor Richmond pointed out that funds in the hands of county welfare organizations were almost depleted at the present time and that it is necessary to have a certain amount in the funds at the beginning of the fiscal year, next July. If this money is not raised through the bond issue, it will mean that a direct tax amounting to approximately seventy-five cents on the dollar would have to be voted upon by the people. Under the bond issue which provides for twenty year bonds, it is estimated a rate of three and three fourths cents on the dollar for payment of interest for the first four years will result, which will be the same when redemption begins, explained the supervisor.

The bond issue did not directly originate with the board of supervisors, explained Supervisor Richmond, but was advocated by the Alameda county Taxpayers Association and the Downtown and the Uptown Merchants Associations of Oakland.

"The supervisors are not waging any campaign for the passage of the bond issue but are leaving the matter up to the taxpayers to decide," said Supervisor Richmond. He also stated that an executive committee made up of representatives from various cities and communities in the county and composed of some of the cheif business men of Oakland, is now being formed to present the need of the issue to the voters before the election.

Supervisor Richmond declared that the relief work in this district is efficiently administered under the direction of Mrs. Harry Elsey. He said that although there may be a few cases of individuals receiving relief who are not in need, these instances are soon found out and the relief stopped.

Speaking in the interest of tax reduction in the county, Supervisor Richmond told the chamber members that the supervisors anticipate hiring the California Taxpayers League to make a thorough investigation of all public offices in the county in the near future with the aim of eliminating all evidences of duplication and cut-

RECORDS SHOW UNUSUALLY DRY YEAR FOR NILES

ALTHOUGH the recent November elections brought repeal of the Wright Act, Niles has been experiencing one of the "driest" seasons in years, records kept by the Niles Southern Pacific railroad station reveal.

Up to Wednesday morning of this week, activities of Jupe Pluvius for the entire season, which dates from the first of July, had netted only .44 of an inch of rainfall, according to the rain guage. This is considerable lower than last year when a total of 4.55 inches had been recorded by the same date.

Up until Monday morning only .22 of an inch had fallen, and which was doubled by the rain of Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. The rain was heartily welcomed by farmers and ranchers in this section.

DEER IS KILLED IN CRASH WITH MOTORIST

It isn't always necessary to have a gun or to go out on a hunting trip to bag a deer.

Ray J. Lenaz, of Locke, made this discovery Saturday night at Scott's Corner near Sunol when a buck weighing approximately 100 pounds fell victim to his automible.

Lenaz, journeying to San Jose, was traveling at approximately forty miles an hour when the deer dashed out in front of his car and was instantly killed. The machine was turned completely around by the impact and went into the ditch, breaking a front wheel. The driver escaped injury.

The dead animal was turned over to Deputy Game Warden Fred Rogers, of Centerville, who gave it to the orphanage at Mission San Jose.

Genial Niles MacMarr Employee Transferred

The many friends of Tom Pugh, who has been employed as clerk in the Niles McMarr store for the past four months, will be sorry to hear of his transfer to the Livermore store of the MacMarr chain. The transfer was made because of the serious illness of an employee at that place and was a promotion for Pugh.

During his stay at Niles, Pugh won many friends with his genial personality. Although they regret that he had to leave Niles, all of these are glad of the promotion.

Charley Mann, of Hayward, has taken Pugh's place at Niles.

SIXTY DAY JAIL TERM GIVEN YOUTH

A plea of guilty to the theft of $2.70 from Joe Monsellis, of Niles, resulted in Joe Corriea, of Tracy, being sentenced to sixty days in the county jail Monday afternoon in the Niles justice court.

Sentence was passed by Judge J. A. Silva after Corriea admitted taking the money from Monsellis on the night of November 15, while the latter was asleep in his home. Corriea was arrested Sunday night by Night Patrolman Arthur Roderick and lodged in the Niles jail.

DEATH CALLS ONE OF NILES OLDEST PIONEERS

Final Tribute Paid To Charles B. Overacker Tuesday

One of the oldest and most widely known Washington township pioneers was removed by the hand of death Sunday night when Charles B. Overacker died at his home on the highway south of Niles. Death was due to a sudden stroke although Overacker had been in ill health for some time.

The deceased was a native of California, being born at Dutch Flat in Pioneer county seventy-nine years ago. He came to Niles when he was an infant and had resided at his home, known as the Overacker Crossing, since that time.

Overacker was employed in Oakland for some time and for approximately twenty years was a bookkeeper at the California Nursery in Niles. After his period of service with that firm he engaged in ranching at Niles.

The deceased had a wide circle of friends in Washington township and was highly respected as a gentleman and citizen among the entire community. His polished manners and pleasing personality was admired by all those who had the privilege of his acquaintanceship.

His wife, Edna S. Overacker, a daughter, Miss Carol B. Overacker, who both reside at Niles, and a son, Lieutenant Charles Overacker, stationed with government aerial forces in Panama, survive to mourn his death. He also was related to the M. J. Overacker family and the Bunting family in Washington township.

The deceased was a member of Alameda lodge 167, F. & A. M., of Centerville. He was one of the first graduates of the University of California from this section.

Funeral services were held at one o'clock from the Botelho Mortuary in Centerville with members of the Centerville lodge fembers of the Centerville lodge in charge. Interment was private at the Mountain View crematorium.

EXPERTS TO PROBE COUNTY POSITIONS TO REDUCE COSTS

Supervisors Employ State Tax Group to Conduct Rigid Survey

The California Taxpayers Association will conduct a county wide survey of governmental offices, it was decided by the Alameda county board of supervisors at their meeting Tuesday.

The survey has been recommended by the county grand jury and other organizations for the purpose of reducing the cost of county government.

It was announced that the survey will be completed by May 1 to allow the supervisors to take action upon any possible recommendations regarding salaries of county employees when the annual salary ordinance is adopted at that time.

The cost of the survey will be $11,500 and the contract provides that all those employed, with the exception of three technical experts, shall be county residents.

All phases of governmental activity including institutions, relief, road work, education, and law enforcement will be covered in the survey, it was announced.

Offices will be established in Oakland and work on the survey will begin immdiately, the board was notified by representatives of the association. The group has had considerable experience in this type of work, it has been pointed out.

Congratulating the board fr its action, C. J. Struble, chairman of the Alameda county tax committee, said the survey is a preliminary step toward effecting reductions in governmental expense and a saving to the county taxpayers.

REDUCTION IS MADE IN WATER DISTRICT TAX RATE FOR FISCAL YEAR

SALARIES AND OTHER EXPENSES SLASHED TO BRING REDUCTION

A four cent reduction from the rate last year has been affected in the Alameda County Water District tax this year, a report recently submitted by the board of directors reveals. This year's county tax bills did not show the water district tax rate as a seperate item, therefore the directors issued the report to show the reduction.

Rate for the coming year is twenty cents on each $100 of assessed valuation, which means that for each $1000 of assessed property valuation, the district receives $2 from the taxpayer.

Reduction in the amount of the budget raised by taxation this year amounts to $3600. The budget last year was $21,600 compared to $18,000 for this year. Of this amount $12,500 goes to pay the annual interest on the $250,000 bond issue of 1930. Other items are $2940 for salaries, $675 for administration which includes $450 for liability insurance to protect the district against possible accident, and rent. The sum of $1685 was included for maintenance and equipment of property not used by the distribution systems. This makes a total outside of the interest fund of $5500 this year compared to $9100 last year, a cut of nearly forty per cent of that part of the budget not used in paying the interest.

This reduction has been effected by slashing all salaries twenty per cent, directors compensaton fifty per cent, and by charging part of the salary fund to the distributing systems for supervision and management and extra work entailed on the district.

A further saving of $3000 which is not reflected in the budget has been made by cutting down the engineering expense. A still further cut of $960 a year has been made on the operatng expense of the distributing systems.

Floating Debt Paid

In 1930 the district incurred a debt of $10,500 in addition to the amount paid for the water rights and property, incurred in rearranging the plant at Alvarado so that it could be used for local distribution purposes; in clearing off a lease on the land at Alvarado so that it might be made

TRIAL OF ASSERTED SWINDLERS SET DECEMBER 19

Howard Jewell and Gordon McCutcheon, charged with violation of the state corporate securities act and alleged to have swindled four Centerville residents out of several thousand dollars of worthless oil stock, will face trial in the superior court in Oakland Monday, December 19, it was announced this week.

The pair received their preliminary hearing before Judge J. A. Silva in the Niles justice court several weeks ago and were bound over to the superior court. Reverend James McElhinney, Ruth Blair Townsend, Miss Florence Blair and Miss Dorah Fuller, of Centerville, are the alleged victims of the two men.

DISMISS STABBING CHARGE AGAINST DECOTO MAN

When evidence was introduced to show that the complaining witness had gone back to his native Mexico, a charge of assault with deadly weapon against Joe Sepulbeda, of Decoto, was dismissed in the Niles justice court Friday afternoon.

Sepulbeda is said to have cut and seriously wounded Jesus Torres in a liquor brawl at Decoto on March 27, 1932. Torres at that time signed the complaint, but Sepulbeda and an alleged acomplice, Pete Martinez fled the country. Sepulbeda was apprehended by county officials some several weeks ago, but Martinez is still at large.

At the preliminary hearing held Friday afternoon, Torres failed to appear and was reported to be in Mexico, thus leading to dismissal of the case.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Alberg and family visited relatives in San Francisco on Sunday.

A Masterful Address

Like it or not, Hiram Johnson is again on top. The biggest man in California, and the greatest orator in America.

We care not what any man may think of the senior senator of this state: he may hate him cordially; disagree with him violently; but if he heard Johnson's speech over the radio from Chicago the Friday before election, grudgingly or otherwise, he must admit that the senator on the rostum is a dangerous antagonist.

Not since, when as a boy, we heard William Jennings Bryan win over a state convention pledged against him, at Columbus, Nebraska, have we heard such a masterful address as the one delivered by Johnson in Chicago.

Always interested in politics, because it was part of our diet from the cradle to the type case, we attended every political rally in our town and neighborhood. It was a great day in our young life when the democratic state convention met in Columbus. Our father had passed on when we were but a lad of fifteen. Now we were seventeen and a "devil" on one of the seven papers in our town. Seven; that's correct. Every political shade of thought had its organ. Our connection with one of the organs gave us right-of-way into the convention hall. We got a good seat, early, down in front.

A few minutes before things were to start, who should edge into the vacant seat next to us but the Commoner, himself. Maybe you don't think we were proud and a little scared. He looked down at us and smiled.

Bryan wasn't a delegate. The democracy had again "buried" the "Silver Tongued Orator of the Platte." Things started up. The slate was made. The machinery was greased. The delegates were to humiliate Bryan and send back word to New York city that liberalism was dead in Nebraska. A few speeches were made. Everyone was watching Bryan. Suddenly some delegate got up and said: "Gentlemen, in this hall tonight is a great democrat, and a great American. He is not a delegate, but I ask consent of this convention that he be called upon to say a few words to us." Well, Bryan's personality was too much for the temporary organization and the chair reluctantly granted the request.

Ah, such a speech. He rose up beside me in all the majesty of his great person. Such eloquence, such unanswerable logic, such pathos. The hostile delegates melted, then rose and applauded him. And when it was all over, the Bryan candidates were nominated and a Bryan platform written.

We shall remember that speech as long as we live. We can actually remember almost every word he said, even to this day. Such a feat in bending men to your will through the spoken word has rarely, in the annals of all history, been duplicated. Men who heard that speech and also heard his Kansas City address, with the crown of thorns and cross of gold, said it out-did even that celebrated oration.

And after we heard Johnson in Chicago, we thought of that Bryan speech of thirty years ago. Bryan never reached the presidency, but his memory lives on—will live longer than that of many presidents. Johnson's ambition to reach the presidency, also probably will never be fulfilled, but his memory, too, shall live long after the name of Hoover has been forgotten.

ting down expenses wherever possible. The group is thoroughly experienced in this work, the supervisor pointed out, and has conducted similar surveys in other city and county governments which have resulted in large savings to the taxpayers.

Although the Niles chamber took no action on the bond issue as a body, two of the members expressed themselves at Monday's meeting.

Robert Blacow declared himself in favor of it, stating that relief was certainly needed by many people in the county who were victims of economic circumstances and deserved it. He expressed hope that after this winter conditions would improve and aid would be unnecessary.

Objection to the bond issue was voiced by E. A. Ellsworth on the grounds that property owners bear all the burden of such a measure. "It is similar to every other bond issue," he declared, "where twenty per cent of the people pay eighty per cent of the tax, and salaried people and security holders escape the burden."

A committee consisting of H. L. Scott and A. J. Petiche was appointed to investigate a complaint that lights in the Southern Pacific pedestrian underpass tunntl at the north enterance to Niles were being broken constantly by vandals. The investigation was ordered after a comunication from the state higsway department had been read requesting the chamber to bear the expense of replacing the light globes and curbing the breakage practice.

E. A. Ellsworth and W. B. Kirk were named on a committee to present a report on several resolutions passed by the California Taxpayers League, proposing economies in the state government amounting to $35,000,000.

No objection to the Washington township demands for roads to be included in the state highway system was voiced by members of the southern Alameda county Highway League at the recent meeting in Hayward, it was reported by E. A. Ellsworth, who with W. B. Kirk represented Niles at the meeting.

A complete report of the proposed roads to be included in the state system will be presented to Senator Arthur H. Breed at the next meeting of the road group to be held in Hayward early this month, Ellsworth said.

An invitation was received by the chamber to attend a meeting at the Hotel Oakland Friday afternoon (tomorrow) at which Frederick J. Koster, tax expert, will speak on the subject of tax reduction. Everyone interested has been invited to attend.

O. W. Ebright was appointed membership chairman for next week.

MORE ON WATER DISTRICT

profitable for farming and in maintaining the big pipe line forced on the district. Ths debt has been cut over $500 ths year. The money to reduce this debt came from the district's land at Alvarado. The big part of it came from the damage award in the condemnation suit for San Francisco's right of way for its emergency pipe line across the district's land, while the remainder came from the district's share of sugar beet crop on 150 acres of land. This was a successful and profitable crop.

Big Pipe Line Removed

In addition to paying this amount on the floating debt the district in cooperation with Supervisor Ralph Richmond and the late County Surveyor George Posey has removed two miles of the East Bay Water Company's thirty-inch pipe line and stored it in the district's yard at Alvarado. This old pipe which has helped to rob the district of so many billion gallons of water still has a commercial value of about $400. It will never be used again to carry water out of the district. It may help to pay off some debts.

Deep Wells Safeguarded

The twenty deep wells on the tract at Alvarado have all been sealed and proteced from possible salt intrusion. Only three wells are now in active use, two to furnish Alvarado with its water supply and the other to furnish water for irrigation to the district's land. Many of these wells cost a great deal of money originally and are worth preserving.

District System Improved

The district has spent over $10,000 during the past year on the distribution systems at Alvarado and Newark. All but $3500 of this has been paid for and this balance is being paid for out of the water revenues in regular monthly installments.

It is the aim of the board of directors to have all the present floating debt and the debt on the distribution system paid off by 1935, when the annual payment on the principal of the funded debt begins. This $10,000 payment added to the annual interest of $12,500 will call for twenty-five-cent tax rate in 1935 and will be gradually reduced to twenty cents at the end of five years. There should be no other expense in the budget to increase this rate and if possible some net revenue should be applied toward reducing the tax rate during these heavier years.

Better Breakfasts

SEVENTY-SIX thousand six hundred and fifty meals is the allotted number for each of us to eat before we are three score years and ten. Divide this by three and you have the number of breakfasts—25,550 breakfasts!

Let's have lots better ones, then, since we've so many to eat. Perish the thought of 25,550 dull breakfasts! Spread the apple-green cloth, set out the flower-sprigged china, the prettiest sparkling crystal, and for a centerpiece use a lovely bowl of autumn flowers—glorious asters, fringed gentians that Wordsworth wrote about, and indescribable autumn leaves. Pewter is very inexpensive just now and adds immeasurably to the charm of the breakfast when used for coffee pot, sugar, cream and tray.

But don't forget the food. Here's a sample better breakfast:

Stewed Apricots and Pears
Cereal
Chicken Hash Raspberry Preserves
Melba Toast Coffee

Chicken Hash: Cut chicken from a 12-ounce can in small pieces, and add two cups of cold boiled potatoes which have been cut fine. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add one-half cup of cream or top milk. Press into a hot skillet with enough fat to prevent sticking, and brown well, turning often with a wide spatula to promote even cooking and browning. This serves six to eight persons.*

DRASTIC ACTION TAKEN BY STATE IN TRUCK FIGHT

Following a recent warning that so-called "wildcat truck operators of the state must cease operations or obtain permits, the California Railroad Commission has just assessed fines of $500 and five days in jail each against two truck operators charged with contempt for refusing to obey such an order.

The contempt action of the railroad commission was taken against two truck operators, said to have used various commercial names handling freight between San Francisco and Sacramento. In making its decision, the commission stated the men were ordered to cease operations last August, but since that time they evaded the order by shipping by rail as far as Stockton and then using trucks between that city and Sacramento.

Fort Bragg—T. R. O'Bayley opened radio repair shop at 120 Laurel Street.

CITY TAXES ARE DELINQUENT IN PLEASANTON

Fifteen Per Cent Penalty To Be Added for Late Payment

Monday was the last day for the payment of the first installment of city taxes, it was announced last week by John Delucchi, tax collector.

According to Delucchi, payment of the city taxes is being made very slowly. Fifteen per cent were added to all taxes which are due, but not paid, by Monday.

The second installment of taxes comes due on the first Monday in January and becomes delinquent the last Monday in April. A penalty of five per cent will be attached to all taxes in the second installment not paid before the delinquent date.

Safety First

SAFETY first should be the rule this year when there has been so much home canning. Don't take any risks. It is impracticable and dangerous to attempt to can non-acid vegetables at home without a pressure cooker, and unsafe to eat non-acid vegetables that have been so canned.

Dr. A. F. Woods, Director of Scientific Work of the Department of Agriculture, made a statement on this subject in 1929. He said at that time:

"Research and practical experience have demonstrated that non-acid food products, like asparagus, beans, corn, peas, beets, spinach, meats and fish cannot be safely canned by processing in boiling water, but must be sterilized under pressure with approved time and temperature.

Cookers Cost Little

"Pressure cookers are now standard equipment and are readily available at small cost. The Department does not recommend any particular make, although it is important that the pressure kettle be equipped with thermometer and pressure gauge for proper control.

"There is now no excuse for continuing to take risks involved in canning non-acid foods without adequate pressure cookers.

"All recommendations of this Department will hereafter make this clear and emphatic."

In further support of this timely warning, the United States Department of Agriculture Farmers' Bulletin No. 1471 (Revised June, 1931) entitled "Canning Fruits and Vegetables at Home" contains the following statement:

"Process all these vegetables in the pressure canner. If no pressure canner is available, it is recommended that methods of preservation other than canning be used."

Favorite Recipes of a Famous Chef

As Told to Anne Baker
By FREDERIC FRANCOIS GUILLOT
Chef, Hotel Astor, New York City

As a means of adding a bit of variety to the menu, Mr. Guillot suggests these two new ways of preparing carrots and beets.

Chef Guillot

Golden Mountain — Scrape and boil until tender enough young carrots to make two cups when mashed. Mash thoroughly and add two well-beaten eggs, one-fourth cup cream, one teaspoon sugar and salt and pepper to taste. Place in well-buttered mold. Stand in pan of hot water and bake until firm in a moderate oven. Turn out on platter and surround with cooked peas.

Savory Beets—Boil one-half dozen medium size beets until tender. In the meanwhile, mix together two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon grated onion, one teaspoon sugar, one tablespoon vinegar, one-half teaspoon salt, a dash of nutmeg. Cook for five minutes. Peel and slice the beets. Arrange in serving dish and pour the sauce over them.

Fifty and Fit

A MAN is as old—or as young—as his organs.

At fifty, you can be in your prime.

Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years?

There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways.

This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness and headache of a bilious spell, and rid the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and unlike habit-forming laxatives you can take it freely or give it to any child. And it isn't expensive.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can avoid those spells of biliousness or constipation. A spoonful every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels, or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. All druggists keep this preparation.
